LATROBE MAN FOUND DEAD

Autopsy, Investigation
To Fix Cause Of Death
Of Silas M. Pruett

An Autopsy will be performed tonight as a part of a coroner's investigation to determine the cause of the death of Silas M. Pruett, 65, found dead at his residence at Latrobe Thursday.

Coroner A. J. Orelli reports that unless the autopsy indicates that an inquest should be held, a formal inquiry will conclude the investigation.

Mr. Pruett was a native of Azelia, Missouri, and had lived in California thirty years being a Latrobe resident for five years.

Thursday morning he arose as usual and had breakfast and soon afterward complained to his housekeeper that he was in distress. He prepared for himself a dose of opium salts and the housekeeper, presuming his distress to be associated with indigestion, prepared a dose of baking soda for him.

She then left the house to attend to some of Mr. Pruett's farm chores and returned a few moments later to find him lying on his bed, dead.

The funeral services will be held at the graveside at Latrobe cemetery on Sunday at 2 o'clock. Rev. John Dunlop will have charge.

Mr. Pruett's wife died within the past two years. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Geneva J. Lang, of Sacramento, and Mrs. Sadie Daniels, of San Francisco.

LIQUOR FEES ALLOCATED

Placerville Receives
$1,472 Of $2,335 To
Be Returned In County

SACRAMENTO—Placerville and unincorporated areas in El Dorado County will receive a total of $3,808.13 as their share of fees derived from liquor licenses issued during the last half of 1938. It was announced here today by R. E. Collins, chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

From the standpoint of the state as a whole, the allocation will amount to $1,222,192.86. This represents 50 per cent of the total fees earned during the last six-month period of 1938. The state's share of this income, after administration costs are deducted, goes into the general fund.

On the basis of actual licenses issued, the unincorporated area of El Dorado County will receive a total of $2,335.63, and Placerville will receive $1,472.50.

The allocations and distribution of these funds are made twice a year. It was explained by Board members. Ordinarily the first-half total is considerably larger than that of the last half inasmuch as a majority of the liquor licenses are renewable during the initial six-month period of each year.

The current allocation is substantially higher than that of the same period of the previous year, the amount which the cities and counties will receive totaling more than $230,000 over their receipts for the last half of 1937.

14 Known Dead As Autos Fall Through Washout Bridge

VICKSBURG, Miss., (U)—The death toll in Mississippi's worst highway disaster, the bridge washout at Clear Creek Bayou, stood at 14 known dead today and rescue workers believed it would increase.

Workers who dragged a half-dozen automobiles and a truck from the muddy waters of the raging bayou said at least two more machines containing four to six bodies remained at the bottom of the stream.

The automobiles were flattened by two sections of a 45 foot concrete span which fell late Wednesday night after the rain laden stream undermined it.

Authorities said the lives of at least 70 bus passengers were endangered Wednesday night. One loaded bus crossed the bridge shortly before it fell and another was halted as it approached the washout.

State Highway Commissioner Sidney Roebuck said the bridge was inspected a few hours before the washout and declared sound. It was built in 1929.

The bodies of five Oak Grove, La., residents were removed from the stream last night. The car caught fire probably from a carelessly thrown cigarette, as it was being dragged out and delayed recovery of the bodies of 15 minutes.

BUDGET BATTLE CONTINUED

5-Man Democratic Group
Given Until Tuesday To
Sift Relief Charges

SACRAMENTO. (U)—Democratic assemblymen today demanded a true picture of state relief administration in California as they temporarily thwarted Republican criticism by continuing until Tuesday further debate on Gov. Culbert L. Olson's $557,000,000 biennial budget.

Assembly speaker Paul Peek said he was authorized at a democratic caucus last night—with the governor as host—to name a five-man party committee to sift charges piling up against the SRA.

The committee will seek to determine, Peek said, whether the relief agency is dominated by labor unions, has communistic and radical tendencies, shows favoritism in relief, and is top-heavy with nepotism, although he said state relief administrator H. Dewey Anderson is taking steps to correct the husband-wife duplicate payroll problem.

Purging of aliens from state and county relief rolls was injected into the situation when the senate pensions and relief committee sent a bill to the senate floor without recommendation.

Two days of sparring on the assembly floor continued.

BUILDERS CREDIT FHA WITH CREATING MANY JOBS

"The Federal Housing Act has made possible the tremendous home building program which has been giving and is now giving employment to tens of thousands of our members," said President Frank C. Macdonald in his annual report to the thirty-second convention of the State Building and Construction Trades Council of California held in San Francisco this week.

"Here in California we recognize it as our duty to render every possible assistance in stimulating home building construction under FHA contracts," he continued. "Last year we personally visited all the principal industrial centers of California, and also our building trades councils for the purpose of stimulating activity and interest in the Federal Housing program. We are proud of the work we did in this program which to date in California has caused contracts totaling over $300,000,000 to be entered into, and has given and is now giving employment to thousands of building trades workers. He is still functioning most actively in this work."

"As a result of business and unemployment conditions, there has been a continuous, definite trend towards lower priced homes. The standards of FHA have tended to protect residential work from too low a construction standard."

"Cumulative through January 31, 1939, 271,814 Title 1 modernizing loans have been made in the State of California in the amount of $106,777,394," stated D. C. PROBATIONER FACES QUIZ

Roy Davenport Held For Hearing On Question Of Violation Of Terms

Roy Davenport, who was one of the defendants who pleaded guilty to charges of grand theft in connection with the highgrading investigation in the county a year ago, was returned from Reno Thursday by Sheriff George M. Smith and is held at the county jail for a hearing on the question of whether he has violated his probation.

Davenport had been admitted to probation for a period of four years, in Superior Court, following his guilty plea, and a part of the terms upon which probation was granted was the order that restitution must be made for the value of the gold admitted to have been stolen.

The circumstances surrounding Davenport's being taken into custody for a hearing on the question are these:

There were rumors afloat early this week of some disorders at Coloma last Saturday night and Davenport's name was mentioned in the rumor.

After meeting with Probation Officer Charles Ball, Sheriff George M. Smith sent word to Davenport Wednesday to appear at his office for questioning.

We are unable to say whether Davenport received the word, but whether he did or not, he left that day for Reno, traveling by auto stage, and fell into the custody of Reno police Wednesday evening while endeavoring to sell a guitar in a Reno pawn shop.

Although the Reno police had no charge upon which to arrest Davenport, they took him into technical custody and telephoned Sheriff (Continued on Page 3)

The committee also reported a bill by assemblyman Gordon Corwin, R. Highland, authorizing the fish and game commission establish special archery preserves in which game could be hunted only by bow and arrow.

LOTUS

The dance given at the Coloma Community Hall Saturday night was in every way a success. Some seventy-five tickets were sold at the door and a number sold throughout the county to parties who did not come to the dance. We are informed that something over three hundred were sold in all and proceeds will be given to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shuman, whose home and all its contents were destroyed by fire a short time ago. The music by Eddie Meltz and his orchestra, of Auburn, was well liked by all the dancers and much credit is due Miss Blossom Meltz for the manner in which she takes the lead of the band with her violin. Last but not least we must not forget the midnight spread which was prepared for the occasion by the ladies of Gold Hill, Coloma, and Lotus and which was in every way all right.

One of our Lotus ladies said to your correspondent the past week that she could not see how much news can be written up for such a small town. She also said it was very good news, spick, and well worth reading and she enjoys it as do many others. Our answer to the lady was that to get news you have to get out and rustle as it is not coming to you, and that is exactly what we are doing most every day.

We notice another correspondent has entered the staff from Granite Hill the past few weeks and hope that they will continue to send in news items from our neighboring town to the Democrat weekly as we do and have done in the past.

Repair work has started in earnest and it won't be long now until things will be going with a bang, because it seems that this year Pino Grande may be running night and day. Tentative plans, it is reported, provide for running one band mill at night.

Most of the families have moved back to camp and a few are yet to arrive. This year we will miss Mrs. R. McCarroll and Mrs. Lew Soderberg. Miss McCarroll is established in her home at Nigger Hill and Mrs. Soderberg has gone to Colorado in an effort to regain her health after a recent severe illness.

Several guests who planned to drive up from Sacramento for the occasion were not able to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hennings, with Doris, Bobby and Darlene, left early Saturday morning for San Francisco to visit the exposition. In spite of the rainy weather, all enjoyed the trip and were enthusiastic about the fair. They returned Monday evening.

Mrs. Lena Vanyle, Helen Gilmore, and Al Huot were in Sacramento over the week-end visiting Mrs. Vanyle's daughter, Mrs. Ray Buck and family.

C. W. Chesmore, who has been a patient at a San Francisco hospital for the past several weeks is reported to be improving. According to word received from the family, he was responding to treatment and it was hoped that an operation would not be necessary.

Helen Moran and Afton McBride were among the Placerville girls who attended the annual Girls' Conference held at Richardson Springs on Saturday.

Cleaning Woodwork

White woodwork may be washed with lukewarm water and mild suds to which ammonia or borax has been added. Varnished or dark woodwork may be cleaned with a mixture of two parts water and one of kerosene. Waxed woodwork may be washed with gasoline, which does not remove the filler in the wood nor darken the color. It will need a rubbing with more wax or polish after such cleaning.

Never use much water in washing woodwork nor allow it to remain damp long. Wash only a small portion, then wipe dry before proceeding further.

sembly bill brought claims from the economy bloc that its first victory was withdrawal by the Governor of a $200,000 item for a compulsory health insurance study.

The insurance plan was not abandoned, however, and Ben Rosenthal, D. Los Angeles, chairman of the ways and means committee, said it would be presented as a special appropriation bill.

Otherwise, Olson declared at the caucus, he wanted the budget to go through unchanged. Republicans were just as determined that more than $30,000,000 should be trimmed from the supply bill. A stalemate was unlikely, since the democrats need 54 votes for a majority and have less than their potential 44 seats because of illness. The extra 10 or 12 votes will be hard to get with the G. O. P. forces closely aligned for showdown fight.

Rural Fire School Set

Institute Meets At Davis Farm School April 7-8, Metcalf Announces

DAVIS.—Causes of rural fires and methods for their prevention will be discussed at the Rural Fire Institute to be held on the Davis campus of the University of California, April 7-8, according to an announcement by J. P. Fairbank and Woodbridge Metcalf of the Agricultural Extension Service, who are in charge of arrangements.

The meeting will open at 9 a. m., Friday, April 7, and continue until noon on Saturday, April 8. The day discussions will include study of prevention and control of fires from highways and railroads, use of chemicals and airplanes in fire control, and maintenance of fire-fighting equipment. Also on Friday will be the annual check-up of motorized equipment in the Yolo County rural fire districts.

On Friday evening a dinner will be held at the California Inn with Knowles A. Ryerson, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, as chairman. After-dinner speakers will be J. D. Miller, Davis fire chief, who will discuss static electricity, and Ralph E. Carlson of the American Red Cross, who will deal with first aid for fire fighters.

The Saturday program, beginning at 9 o'clock, will include a discussion of rural fire risk specifications, demonstrations of fire-fighting equipment, and inspection of the shops and warehouses of the State Division of Forestry.

HERE'S LOUISE CAMPBELL, rushing somewhere with Fred MacMurray and Ray Milland, in a scene from the film, "Men With Wings," an aviation epic in Technicolor, which comes to the Empire screen Sunday and Monday.

"MEN WITH WINGS" AIR TALE IN TECHNICOLOR, OPENS ON SUNDAY

Edith Fellows, the versatile little screen star, comes Saturday to the Empire Theatre screen in an exciting, colorful film of the theatre and the race tracks. As "The Little Adventuress," 13-year-old Edith joyfully moves through a finely constructed tale of a little orphaned show girl who inherits a trick horse.

Hollywood's first air epic ever to be filmed in technicolor is Paramount's "Men With Wings," which will have its local opening Sunday and will be shown also on Monday.

It was produced and directed by a man who probably knows more about working in color than any one in filmdom. He is William A. Wellman, who made the two recent Technicolor hits, "A Star is Born," and "Nothing Sacred," as well as the great aviation epic of a few years ago, the unforgettable "Wings."

Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland and Louise Campbell head the cast of the thrilling romance of three young American pioneers of the air who

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP)—This is the Masters' Tournament, and the masters are 50 to 1.

That was the price quoted on Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen when the field started playing in the sixth annual Masters' invitation tournament in this gentle old southern town.

Down through the dogwood went Snead and Picard and Guldahl at 8 to 1. Up over the pine-needled crests went Nelson and Smith and Runyan at 12 to 1. Skirting the Azaleas with their flaming bloom went Revolta and Hogan and Little and Demaret at 20 to 1.

All over the lovely course were golfers held at a shorter price than that of the Masters, Jones and Hagen. Coldly, and with no thought of the past, the bookmakers set their price on the men who, not so many springs ago, dominated the fairways of the world.

Jones and Hagen! What a pair! When they teed off—and bookmakers were damned! They had their galleries—Bobby and Walter carried between them 24 national championships. In their glorious days, when youth was theirs, they conquered the fairways of St. Andrews, tamed the traps of Holyoke, mastered the winds of Muirfield, fought off the blistering suns of Interlachen, and Winged Foot.

And that's not all. In their swag-gery days Bob and Walter tamed the treacherous greens of Oakmont, rode rough-shod through the rough at Marion, and blasted pars and birdies from the sands of Prestwick and Scioto.

Seven British Opens fell before them. Six times their names were written on the U. S. Open Cup. In the fierce hand to hand struggle that is the P. G. A. tournament Mr. Walter five times triumphed. In the bitter, sudden death battles of the U. S. and British amateur Box six the locker room.

In 30 P. G. A. matches, against the greatest golfers in the world, Hagen bowed but once. In his hey-day Jones was even money against the field, and it didn't matter what the field. He was the one to beat, and he was the one seldom beaten.

Today they went out at 50 to 1. The moving finger that the Persian wrote about has written against them. Time has marched on. And they haven't kept step with the youngsters who fell alongside the ever marching man with the scythe. Younger shoulders have more power, younger eyes keener sight. Younger ambitions more incentive.

Roll back a few years off the Augusta course, let bloom again the dogwood of yesteryear, and Walter and Bob—Walter in silk shirt and knickers, Bob in his soft sweaters and flannels—would be odds on favorites against the field.

Just nine years ago, on the eve of his drive for the grand slam, Jones met the starters of today's field right here and beat them by sixteen strokes.
